Senior securities are typically considered the safest offerings by a company, since in the event of a default, the holders of senior-secured loans will be repaid before other lenders. Senior-secured CRE paper relates specifically to CRE loans. Commercial Real Estate (CRE) Commercial real estate refers to properties primarily used for business and income-generating purposes. These properties are not designed for residential living and typically encompass various asset types, including office buildings, retail spaces, industrial warehouses, hotels, and multifamily apartment complexes. Closed-end fund A closed-end fund is a type of fund that offers a fixed, limited number of shares. Closed-end funds are usually actively managed and concentrate on a specific industry or sector. Interval fund An Interval Fund is a distinctive category of closed-end investment fund, featuring shares that are not openly traded on the secondary market. Interval funds are designed to facilitate periodic repurchases, typically occurring on a monthly or quarterly basis. <sup>2</sup>There is no guarantee that investors will receive a distribution. The Fund has an interval fund structure and has adopted a fundamental policy to conduct quarterly repurchase offers at NAV, subject to applicable law, for no less than 5% of the Fund's Shares outstanding at NAV. While the quarterly repurchase offer is expected to be 5%, the amount of each quarterly repurchase offer may be 5% to 25% subject to approval of the Board of Trustees. 6-Month Annualized Distribution Yield 6-Month Annualized Distribution Yield is calculated as the distribution for the past 6 months multiplied by 2 (number of 6-month periods in a year) and divided by the NAV per share on 10/31/2024. Depending on when an investor purchased their shares, the annualized distribution rate may be higher or lower. There is no guarantee that investors will receive a distribution. Although the fund does not expect to pay a return on capital, a portion or all of an annual distribution may consist solely of a return of capital (i.e., from your original investment) and not a return of net investment income in the future, however to date this has not occurred.

Important Risk Information & Disclosures

This fund is an interval closed-end fund. The Fund is an appropriate investment only for those investors who can tolerate a high degree of risk and do not require a liquid investment. The Fund does not intend to list the Shares on any securities exchange and the Fund does not expect a secondary market in the Shares to develop. Because you will be unable to sell your Shares or have them repurchased immediately, you will find it difficult to reduce your exposure on a timely basis during a market downturn. All or a portion of an annual distribution may consist solely of a return of capital (i.e., from your original investment) and not a return of net investment income. The Fund has limited operating history and the shares have no history of public trading. The Fund is classified as "non-diversified" under the Investment Company Act. As a result, it can invest a greater portion of its assets in obligations of a single issuer than a "diversified" fund. The Fund may therefore be more susceptible than a diversified fund to being adversely affected by a single corporate, economic, political or regulatory occurrence.
